

The Baron Palace

Ever wondered what it would feel like to visit a haunted place? Well, if you're in Cairo then you're minutes away. The Baron palace in Heliopolis "The city of luxury and leisure" is said to be a real home of terror. The palace has been deserted for many years and it has been reported that the windows open and close late at night. The Hindu palace was built by Edouard Louis Joseph, Baron Empain who asked that the old palace was to be built upon a type of turnstile that would rotate the whole building so that its windows were always facing the sun. If you want to experience a feeling of rush and fascination, then you should definitely visit the palace!
