

Word Of The Chairman

Dear Readers,

During the past few months, we have witnessed a chain of shocking events. It is now customary to hear about the collapse of huge multinational corporations and the bankruptcy of others.

In my opinion, it is only when the modern man believed he has reached a level of sophistication and knowledge which made everything predictable and under control, events turn to a new direction where even economics experts are not able to predict what may happen in the upcoming months.

The only mean of passing through this time is to be careful before making any decision, alert to changes happening around and optimistic that we will pass through this time, and prosperity will prevail again.
